

Golden Spike and Human Lunar Expeditions: For All Mankind

A PUBLIC PRESENTATION

The Golden Spike Company was formed to create a human lunar transportation system capable of providing Apollo-like lunar surface exploration capabilities to space and science agencies around the world, from corporate lunar transportation to space tourism.

This presentation will describe the company; its background, plans, and business model; and the architecture and capabilities that Golden Spike expeditions will offer.

The lecture will be followed by Q&A.

WHEN:

Thursday, October 3, 2013, 7:30 p.m.

WHERE:

Universities Space Research
Association—
3600 Bay Area Blvd.
Houston TX 77058

SPEAKERS:

Gerry Griffin, Chairman of the Board,
Former NASA JSC Center Director

Alan Stern, President and CEO, Former NASA
Associate Administrator for Science