Before LPSC

- Reach out to the co-chair for your session, introduce yourself, and coordinate session management tasks, which include setting session ground rules, displaying slides, monitoring and moderating webinar Q&A, and time management.

- With your co-chair, determine the preferred method for timekeeping and to issue a 2-minute warning. Suggested apps: Multi Timer StopWatch on Google Play and Multi-Stopwatch in the Apple App Store.

- The LPI will send session chairs a copy of all presentation slides for back-up purposes should a presenter have technical difficulties.

- If a speaker contacts you about a cancellation, notify the program chair, Walter Kiefer (kiefer@lpi.usra.edu), and LPI Meetings team member, Linda Garcia (lgarcia@hou.usra.edu), immediately.

- Do not allow presenters to change the order of presentations as listed in the program. Attendees rely on the published program schedule.

- Identify who will introduce presenters and monitor/moderate the webinar Q&A.

- Familiarize yourself with presentation titles and speakers’ names to avoid mispronunciations.

- Connect to your session at least 20 minutes before it starts.

Oral Session Introduction

- Kick off the oral session with an introduction of both session chairs, the ground rules for the oral session, and an overview of the session timeline.

- If a speaker is having difficulty connecting to the webinar, alert the AV technician assigned to that session.

During the Oral Session

- Continue to emphasize the session ground rules throughout the session. Some people may join a session late and will not have heard them at the session introduction.

- Do not allow presenters to change the order of presentations as listed in the program. Attendees rely on the published program schedule.
Session Chair Guidelines (20-minute presentations)

• Time management is critical to the success of the session. As chair, you are responsible for keeping the session on schedule.
  o Presentation Duration: The total duration of each live presentation is 20 minutes: 15 minutes for speaking and 5 minutes for discussion/Q&A and speaker transition. You will need to issue a 2-minute warning at the 13-minute mark.
  o If a paper has been withdrawn or a speaker does not appear, call for a discussion of previous papers in that session or related issues.
  o Do not begin the next presentation until the time listed in the program.
  o Presenters will be responsible for sharing their screens and displaying their slides. All presenters will have the opportunity to test remote connections prior to the session.

• Technical Support: An AV technician will be in each room to assist if needed.

• Session Chair Report: Submit the session chair report after the session has concluded.
